ON HOLD

New Doctors

Spokane Eye Clinic is excited to welcome our newest physician, Dr. R Joel Welch. To learn more about Dr. Lee, head over to Spokane Eye Dot Com. Thank you for allowing our excellent medical practitioners to care for you and your family members.

Dry Eye Center

Are your eyes experiencing burning or scratching sensations? Do they constantly water or fluctuate in blurriness throughout the day, especially when you are driving, reading or watching TV? Spokane Eye Clinic is here to help! Dr. Rachel Gilles, our new dry eye specialist, works with you to create a personalized home treatment plan to help you manage your symptoms. In cases when home treatments may not be enough, patients often see life-changing results from our in-office treatments. To learn more about Dr. Gilles and our Dry Eye Center, visit Spokaneeye.com/dryeye. Thank you for holding; we will be with you shortly!

COVID-19 Spot

All Spokane Eye Clinic locations are open and operating at normal business hours. When you arrive for your clinic visit or surgery, please wear a mask covering your nose and mouth. We ask family and friends to wait in the car during your appointment. If needed, one caregiver can be present for special-needs and pediatric patients. We are screening all patients upon arrival and have implemented other social distancing measures to prevent the spread of COVID-19 in our community. Thank you for your cooperation, and we look forward to caring for you and your family's vision. Please refer to our website at Spokane Eye Dot Com for more about what to expect at your appointment.

Wellness/Medical Exam

Did you know that there is a difference between a wellness vision exam and a medical eye exam? A wellness vision exam includes a screening for eye disease and an eye refraction. If you wish to receive a glasses or contact lens prescription at your next visit, you should notify the appointment scheduler that you would like to book a wellness vision exam. A medical eye exam typically includes diagnosis and treatment of eye related medical diseases, such as glaucoma, macular degeneration, cataracts, corneal disease, eye infections, dry eye, etc. If the intention for your visit is to be evaluated for a medical eye condition, then notify us.

Intraocular Lens

If you or someone you know needs cataract surgery, ask about our premium intraocular lenses. These include multifocal and toric astigmatism correcting lenses. These artificial lenses help cataract patients see well at various distances after surgery, often decreasing their dependence on glasses or contacts. We have 10 skilled cataract surgeons at our clinic. Ask to speak with Jeff Mazza or John Amoroso here at Spokane Eye Clinic to find out more about the premium intraocular lenses. Thank you for holding while we are assisting other patients.

Pediatric Eye Care

Does your child have an eye problem? Our pediatric eye care team here at Spokane Eye Clinic would be happy to help! Our providers take care of a variety of eye problems, including amblyopia, strabismus (eye misalignment), need for glasses, and many others. We'd love to meet your family and work together to develop a customized treatment plan. Follow our pediatric eye care blog at Spokaneeye.com. Thank you for waiting, we will be with you momentarily.

Medical Botox

If you suffer from more than 15 severe headaches or migraines a month and have tried oral prescription medication that did not bring relief, you may be a candidate for medical Botox. Talk to our appointment schedulers today to see if our neuro-ophthalmologist, Dr. Krista Kinard, might be able to help. Thank you for holding; we will be with you shortly.

Clinical Research Department

Did you know Spokane Eye Clinic has a clinical research department? Clinical trials are designed to explore the latest treatments available for people diagnosed with diseases such as macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy, glaucoma, and other eye related conditions. Clinical trials are regulated through the food and drug administration and the nation institute of health to protect patient's rights, safety, and welfare. We are excited to be able to offer our patients new and exciting opportunities that are not available as standard of care at this time. Ask to speak with the Research Department for more information about our current research studies. See what current studies are enrolling at Spokaneeye.com.

Cosmetic Offers

Did you know Spokane Eye Clinic offers cosmetic botox and filler injections? Dr. Nicholas Ranson, a fellowship trained oculoplastic surgeon, provides this service. Schedule an appointment with Dr. Ranson if you are interested in a consultation to evaluate your options and discuss the most optimum treatment plan tailored specifically to you. Thank you for waiting, we will be right with you.
